As in Egypt: young, and not so young, mobilize themselves without organization. African-American Literature Despite African presence in North America before the transatlantic slave trade, African American literature begins with the oral. The poets tell us it was gold and silver but, for Lap Band for Life philosophers, it was iron and corn, which first civilised men, and ruined humanity. The robust variety of Australopithecus has since been reclassified as Paranthropus although it is still regarded as a subgenus of Australopithecus by some authors. This idea was developed and given official sanction at the second Council of Orange which declared that the beginning and even the desire of faith was the result of the gift of grace.
